

BSc(Hons) Nursing Studies Specially Designed for Registered Nurses

Registration in process

Programme Overview

Programme Duration: 18 months

Mode of Study: Distance Learning

Intake: January and September

Programme Fee: £ 6000

What you will study

Year 1

Pharmacology

- Apply the principles of Pharmacology to groups of drugs used within clinical practice

Management and Care in Diabetes Mellitus

- Examine the theory of Diabetes Mellitus
- Educate and support patients in their understanding of the illness

Evaluating Practice through Theories and Models

- Develop knowledge and skills in evaluating care management
- Develop and enhance care for an individual or group of service users

Professional, Ethical and Legal Issues in Health Care

- Examine and review professional, ethical and legal issues
- Take a person-centred approach to healthcare provision

Learning, Teaching and Assessment in Practice

- Learn about the best available evidence in creating a clinical learning environment

Cancer Care

- Explore current issues in cancer care
- Engage in reflection and critical thinking about the patient and family experience

Year 2 (6 months)

Principles of Research and Evidence Based Practice

- Learn about the different types of evidence that may be used to inform practice
- Explore different approaches to undertaking research

Work-based Learning

- Reflect on professional and practice development in student's practice area
- Develop critical thinking, reading and writing skills to inform clinical judgement

Nursing Honours Project

- Conduct independent scientific research
- Design, develop and implement an investigation for a research topic

Entry Requirement

Diploma of Nursing or equivalent and to be registered nurses

There is also a requirement to have an IELTS score of 6.0 or above. If Diploma has been undertaken in English, this can be waived.

Application

Contact Person: Joseph Lau
Address: 8/F., Chow Tai Fook Centre, 580A Nathan Road
Mongkok, Kowloon, Hong Kong

Phone: +852 2300 1824
Email: info@macgregor.edu.hk